Little Theatre Play Three Nights This Weekend

An evening of unbridled mirth is in store for patrons of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre this week with the opening play of the season "My Three Angels" getting the local playhouse off to a promising season.

Director Paul White showed his skill in casting and in very cleverly keeping the fast tempo of the comedy. Patrons are warned to be on their toes when viewing the play as action and dialogue are paced to staccato pitch, and many good lines will be lost if alertness is abandoned for a moment. The play moves exceedingly fast in the second and third acts, and when the final curtain rings down, laughter is rocking the rafters.

Curtis Matherne is doing a fine job, as Felix the shopkeeper of the little shop in the French Guiana province where the story is laid. Rex Rector, Charles Carter and Phil Allison as the "Three Angels" do proudly by themselves and their director. In fact the entire cast is fine, and each actor is doing an assigned role with veteran skill.

Authenticity has been stressed in the stage setting, and again the fine hand of Marie Louise Blair, as technical director is evident. Curtain time is scheduled for 8:15 p. m. with shows on Thursday, May 2, Friday, May 3 and Saturday, May 4.

Membership cards may be purchased at the entrance for the usual sum of $5.00. Individual gate admission is $1.50.

Bay High School Registration, May 10

May 10th will be Registration Day in the three primary centers in the Bay St. Louis Public School System for beginning students for the session 1957-58. Students must reach their 6th birthday prior to January 1st in order to be enrolled for next year's work. This pre-registration is being made in order that preparations may be made to hold classes in 1st grade down to thirty or less pupils.

The failing of parents to register their children on this date may mean that there will not be a place for them in September.

First grade teachers will be free on this day to devote time to discussion of new students with parents in order that they may be familiar with the child when they come to school in September.

BOOK REVIEW MAY 10th

Prominent Jurist, Anna Judge Veters Levy, Judge of the First City Court of New Orleans will review her own recently published book, "Other People's Children," at the last of a series of book reviews at the City-County Memorial Library on Court Street.

On Friday, May 10 at 8:15 p. m. Drawing from her eight years of experience on the bench of a juvenile court, Judge Levy has chosen from 30,000 cases those that give a well-rounded picture of juvenile delinquency. Her book demonstrates in moving terms how and why youngsters get into trouble with law and what our courts are doing to help them.

Judge Levy's book deals with a problem that touches the life of every citizen. Her review should be a valuable experience for all who are responsible for the welfare and happiness of children, or with keen insight she demonstrates in her book that delinquents are not "other people's children," vicious and hopelessly warped.

Judge Levy was brought up in New Orleans. She received her B. A. and M. A. degrees from Tulane and her LL. B. degree from Loyola, and was admitted to the bar in 1922. Until 1940 she was actively engaged in the practice of law.

Judge Levy has been connected with every civic welfare movement in her community and has been particularly active in child welfare work.

In 1940 she was elected Judge of the Juvenile Court for the Parish of New Orleans and served on that bench until 1949. During that time Judge Levy was Secretary and Treasurer of the National Association of Juvenile Court Judges and visited juvenile courts and agencies in all 48 states and most of the countries of Western Europe. She was appointed Judge of the First City Court of New Orleans in 1950 and still serves in that capacity.

No stranger to the Gulf Coast, Judge Levy spent her childhood summer vacation in Waveland. Now her weekends and summers are spent at her lovely home Sandolano-on-the-Jordan.

The public is cordially invited to attend the review. Admission is $1.00.

He was transferred to his native Bay St. Louis from Alexandria, La., in 1925, and has been in the local office since that time. He received his appointment as Postmaster September 14, 1951.

Attorneys Howard McDonald and Cornelius Ladner defending Dale Morris against a charge by the state of the murder of Charles Flink, advised they have appealed to the Supreme Court this week in an effort to obtain bond for the Montana Cowboy.

Morris was denied bond Monday in Gulfport by Judge Leslie Grant, who gave as his reason "The proof of the guilt of the prisoner is evident." McDonald and Ladner had petitioned the court on a writ of habeas corpus on grounds the state had not introduced sufficient evidence in three successive trials to convict Morris of the November slaying of Charles Flink. The three trials ended as mistrials with hung juries. The defense pointed out that in the first trial only one man held out with a not guilty verdict, the second trial ended with three men holding this opinion, and the third trial seven men were for a not guilty verdict, while five found him guilty as charged.

District Attorney Boyce Holleman, who has prosecuted for the state has announced he will try Morris a fourth time when Circuit Court convenes in Hancock County in November.

Judge Grant, who has presided over the three trials of Morris, in Bay St. Louis said, "A mistrial does not pe se establish a right to bail but is a strong circumstance to be considered. It comes with triple force if three juries fail to agree. But however numerous the mistrials, they could never amount to a rebuttal of the fact that the proof is evident or the presumption great."

The defense contended the presumption of guilt weakened with each mistrial.

In his written opinion Judge Grant said, "The Court should proceed with great caution in admitting to bail capital cases."

The defense said they hoped to have an immediate hearing on their appeal to the Supreme Court for bond for Morris.

Blood Drawing May 8th

Final plans for the Blood Drawing scheduled for Wednesday, May 8, were made Monday night when the Board of the Hancock County Blood Bank met at the American Legion Home.

Drawing will take place from 1:00 p. m. and continue until 9:00 p. m. the day of the drawing. The mobile unit from Foundation Hospital will be in charge of operation at the Youth Center.

100 pints of blood is the quota set for the coming drawing. "The supply on hand in the storage bank at Foundation Hospital is exceedingly low," advised Geo. Heitzmann, chairman of the local Bank, "and it is necessary for the quota to be met to assure blood for any emergency which may arise for residents of Hancock County."

Donors will be materially compensated for giving blood with a pint of ice cream, contributed by Wilson Weber, owner of the Dairy Queen; a week's pass to the Star Theatre, compliments of its owners, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Scalfidi, and two pounds of coffee, compliments of the Merchants and Reilly Coffee Companies of New Orleans. In addition to these individual compensations, there will be entrance prizes, a basket of groceries, courtesy of retail grocer merchants of Bay St. Louis, and a potted plant, contributed by the Lone Pine Nursery, Mr. and Mrs. White Reinken, owners.

Transportation will be provided persons wishing to give blood. On the day of the drawing, telephone calls to the Youth Center will provide pick up and return of donors, or advance calls for transportation may be secured by calling George Heitzmann, Mr. Richard Thames, James Norman or Nelius Rhodes.

Kenneth Whitfield, who had sustained an injured back some time ago, was hospitalized in Memorial Hospital for several days due to straining the injured portion of his body. He returned to his home in Bay St. Louis Tuesday.

Students of the Jean Martin Dance Studio, were entertained by their teacher at an Easter Party on Easter Eve at her home on Henderson and Nicholson Ave. Parents of Jean, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Martin assisted in entertaining and serving the young guests.

Commander and Mrs. William Humphrey, Arlington, Va., left Wednesday for their home following a ten day visit with Dr. and Mrs. Harold Keefe here. Other recent guests of the Keefes were Mrs. Keefe's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Maddux and their three children, and - Mr. Maddux's mother, Mrs. Pearl Maddux. They spent Easter week and several days following Easter here.

Mrs. Robert Genin was taken to Memorial Hospital, Gulfport, Monday where she is being given medical care.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Kohler will be among those absent from Bay St. Louis this weekend, as they leave this evening for Biloxi where they will attend a convention of laundrymen.

ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR POPPY DAY

Poppies worn to honor the memory of the war dead on Poppy Day, May 25, also will bring help to disabled war veterans, Mrs. Albert Biehl, Poppy Chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, pointed out today as she worked on arrangements for the Poppy Day observance.

"Contributions given to the Auxiliary's 'Poppy Girls,' will be a principal source of support for the Auxiliary's work for disabled war veterans during the coming year," Mrs. Biehl explained. "The money also will be used in child welfare work for needy children of veterans."

"While honoring those who died defending America," said Mrs. Biehl, "the American Legion Auxiliary asks that we also think of those who did not die but sacrificed health and strength in the nation's service. The sick and disabled veterans are still within reach of our help, and helping them is a continuous activity of the Auxiliary."

"Volunteer Auxiliary workers go into the hospitals and the homes where veterans are still fighting their long, painful battle against wounds - illness, bringing them comfort and cheer. Funds are needed for emergency aid, for comfort articles and for cheering gifts, but since all the work is done by unpaid volunteers, Auxiliary dollars go a long way. We count upon warmhearted, remembering American to give us the dollars we must have for this work when we bring them their poppies."

APPEAL FOR BLOOD CREDIT AT COMING DRAWING

Dewey Lunsford, Hancock County resident, who lives between Westonla and Picayune is requesting persons who plan to be blood donors at the drawing May 8, if they have no specific credits to give with their blood to please give some credits to him.

Lunsford recently underwent serious surgery and 38 pints of blood were used in treating him at the hospital. He said his bill amounted to in excess of $2,000.00. Each pint given to him would be of great help in reducing the staggering amount of the bill.

When registering at the bank the day of the drawing donors are privileged to specify if they want their blood credited to any certain person or account. Such requests are honored and the credited blood transferred from Foundation Hospital to the hospital named by the person to whom the credit is given.

Government For?

McCarthy, Member of Congress, has been free from ignorance and sales fear; and moral goods to enable him to attain self-mastery.

Although religion and morality have long been recognized as essential to a stable political order, the lines between government and religion cannot always be clearly drawn. Religion has significant bearing and responsibility on government, and government must be concerned about the moral and spiritual life of its citizens. Yet we must be alert to the danger of the intrusion of the State into areas of culture and into areas of the social and private life of its citizens. Yet we must be alert to the danger of the intrusion of the State into areas of culture and into areas of the social and private life of its citizens. Yet we must be alert to the danger of the intrusion of the State into areas of culture and into areas of the social and private life of its citizens.

We have learned the great danger of rendering to religion the things that are Caesar's—political authority and political power; and of the danger of rendering to Caesar the things that are God's—faith, worship, and absolute obedience.

May To Be Minute Man Month In Honor Of U. S. Bonds Promotion

May will be Minute Man month throughout the nation in honor of the volunteer workers in the U. S. Savings Bonds program since 1941. In announcing this, Rex Brown, state chairman of the U. S. Savings Bonds Committee for Mississippi, said the month will bring intensified promotion of bond sales through all markets for E and H Bonds.

To purchase Savings Bonds is to invest in the future of America, Mr. Rex Brown said. "But as an even more practical matter, it is to invest in the future security of our loved ones. These bond savings help to strengthen our economy and build our economic defense against the challenges of tomorrow. When we save for the big things in our lives as the Treasury urges us to do, we want to be sure that those savings of ours are in the safest possible place. Any banker will agree that Savings Bonds, with principal and interest guaranteed by the United States and fully protected against physical loss or destruction, are completely safe and stable. There is nothing safer, anywhere.

The Minute Men of Lexington and Concord were dispersed by the fire of the redcoats, but they came back to fight from behind the stone walls along the road back to Boston, and with reinforcements of other volunteers turned defeat into victory. During Minute Man month we expect our bond volunteers, reinforced by new recruits, to bring Series E and H bond sales in this state up to a figure that will represent a real victory for thrift and sensible saving.

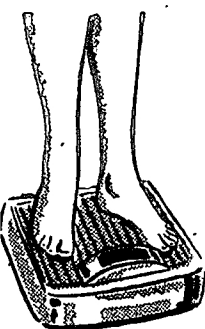

"There is no safer investment in the world, and no better investment for the average saver than the E and H bonds of the United States Treasury, which now pay 3 1/2 %."

Women Writers Hold 3-day Conference In Biloxi

By VICKI LENNOX HILL

Dispelling the delusion that female writers resemble miniature men, the women writers of the Biloxi conference of writers at the White House Hotel in Biloxi last week end.

The conference was sponsored by the Live Oak branch of the National League of American Penwomen in conjunction with the University of Mississippi.

Duke Tredler represented the University, while Mrs. Lloyd Giffith of Bay St. Louis, President of the branch, officiated. Mrs. Looman's topic was "What an Editor Wants in Fiction." She stated that the number of good writers is in the majority today and that a dire need exists for good, clear scripts which appeal to the average reader. She stressed that the story with the surprise ending has had its day, that it is unlikely it will be revived since it was a fad and has lost its importance.

Ray Samuel of New Orleans, who is Public Relations officer for the Godwin Advertising Agency and co-author of the book, "Tales of Mississippi," was next to take the rostrum. Mrs. Samuel used as his subject, "Research—The Literary Treasure Hunt," and set forth many valuable suggestions for seeking data vital to the non-fiction writer as well as a well spring of inspiration to the fiction writer.

The talk was interspersed with witty anecdotes, the most notable of which referred to his interview with a Civil War Veteran at Beauvoir.

Throughout the interview the veteran gave a lucid and exciting account of his personal experiences during combat. Samuel, spellbound, considered himself fortunate to be getting information from the horse's mouth, so to speak. When the interview was completed Samuel learned that the veteran happened to have been a drummer-boy of eleven years old at the time and that the story was purely a figment of the old gentleman's imagination.

Evans B. Harrington, instructor in English at the University of Mississippi spoke on the value of enlisting the services of an agent when the writer becomes established. The new writer was reminded that he must sell a considerable number of manuscripts before an agent would consider him an asset.

"But," concluded Harrington, "acting as one's own agent brings written contact with editors which may prove extremely valuable to the young writer."

Opening the second day of the conference John Dillon Husband, professor of journalism of Tulane University, emphasized the conviction that there still is and always will be a solid audience for poetry. Citing two poets whom he considers among the top-ranking ones he named Lysander Kemp and Mae Swenson, and added that poetry, like surgery, requires extensive training and effort that few acquire before maturity.

The Saturday Evening Post was represented by Ivan Dmitri, who is considered one of the outstanding color photographers in the country. Mr. Dmitri related a typical example of the diplomacy which is necessary in getting a photograph of the camera-shy.

Assigned to do a photo-story of a world-famous jewelry house on Fifth Avenue in New York, Dmitri was consistently and emphatically refused permission to photograph the official who purchased diamonds for the house.

"Then who is your assistant," asked Dmitri in feigned resignation. He was referred to another employee.

Quick-witted Dmitri jumped in with the question, "Where do you sit when you select diamonds?"

"At this desk," Hesitating only a moment the photographer said, "I sincerely hope to take a photograph of another sitting at your desk, it would be a misrepresentation, and Tiffany's does not misrepresent."

Smilingly the official relented and had his picture made.

At the banquet held on Friday night honoring visiting dignitaries J. Frank Dobie was guest speaker. Mr. Dobie is recognized as an authority on the southwest region and is author of "Coronado's Children" published in 1931.

In the absence of Hodding Carter, editor of the Delta Democrat Times who was delayed in New Brunswick, N. J., as one of the board of judges of the Pulitzer award, his wife, Betty Werlein

Carper conducted the Saturday morning session.

Mrs. Carper supplied beauty in addition to brains to a roster of literary world.

The author recalled her famous husband having sold his first story to American magazine for $350.00 which was used for a honeymoon trip to Mexico.

She recommended the Howard Tilton library of Tulane as an excellent source of information on southern lore, urged every writer to be individual and not to conform to opinions simply because one's grandparents believed that way, and warned against "Puritanism" in putting thoughts into words.

She likened the latter to a "polished apple which yet had at its core the destructive worm."

"Write as you see it and you will help to uphold the first amendment to the Constitution," she ended.

Gleaned from remarks made at the closing session in a panel discussion on the art of writing were the following:

Husband: "Almost any character has some resemblance to someone you know."

Samuel: "Smut in writing should be avoided—especially in Mississippi."

Dmitri: "Tape recording is an easy way of interviewing."

Dmitri: "Susan Hayward was discovered by Seitznick through a published photograph."

Dmitri: "One can take a picture of any public place or object for release except in a mental institution. Here permission must be secured."

Carter: "Do surrounding research before interviewing so all questions are ready."

Carter: "Towns have personalities as well as people have."

Carter: "See story from as many faces as possible. You will make enemies by writing as you see it, but they will be enemies you will be proud of."

At the conclusion of the conference it was agreed that in addition to being brilliantly informed the speakers were diplomats, psychologists as well as humorists.

SITES ON RIVERS, CANALS ATTRACT INDUSTRY PLANTS

Industry is still spending billions of dollars in new plant construction along the navigable rivers and canals where they can receive fuel and raw materials and ship their products by low cost barge transportation. The American Waterways Operators, Inc., listed 128 waterside sites acquired by industry during the first quarter of 1957 for major new plant projects. With a few exceptions these are multi-million dollar undertakings. During the last quarter of 1956 the national Assn. of the barge and towing vessel industry listed 107 new waterside plants.

On a state-wide scale it was reported that the harvesting and manufacturers of the state's forest products during 1956 had an economic value of approximately $360 million.

ANNOUNCEMENT RECEPTION

The engagement and coming nuptials of Miss Karen Kergosien and Mr. David Treutel were formally announced at an afternoon reception given by Miss Kergosien's aunt on Saturday at the home of her aunt Miss Clara Kergosien.

The bride elect was a charming picture as she received with the hostesses, her mother Mrs. Horace Kergosien and Mrs. P. J. Treutel, mother of the bridegroom-elect, wearing an exquisite summer trousseau rock of white imported lace and chiffon. A corsage of white calla lilies with white satin ribbons complemented the fragile freshness of the ensemble. Mrs. Kergosien and Mrs. Treutel each presented corsages of white calla lilies, one done with pastel yellow and satin ribbons and the other in Nile green ribbons. The hostesses also wore similar corsages as did the close family friends who poured coffee and tea. Tea girls were all members of the family and were daintily groomed in long frocks in pastel shades.

Receiving guests in addition to Miss Kergosien were Mrs. Joseph Blaize, Mrs. Laurent Kergosien, Mrs. Ogden Kergosien, Mrs. Charles Kergosien, Mrs. Emmett Kergosien, Mrs. Douglas Bourgeois, Mrs. James Morlan.

The table in the dining room was charming, laid with a fine handmade Madeira cloth in white linen. An artistic arrangement of calla lilies, white candy tuff and Queen Anne's lace, in a silver bowl centered the table. Branches of silver candelabra held white lighted tapers, white silver compotes holding dainty confections in white and yellow and silver tea and coffee services completed the setting.

Calla lilies and Queen Anne's lace were in profusion throughout the entire reception area of the spacious home.

The catering done by Mrs. Bourgeois for her niece's party was tempting in both eye appeal and quality.

One hundred and sixty invitations were sent to friends, most of whom called during the reception hours.

American Legion AUXILIARY NOTES

Junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary enjoyed an Easter Egg Hunt, held Sunday, April 14, at St. Stanislaus Stadium. One hundred and fifty children were present to look for the 1200 eggs which were hidden.

Mike Romanoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Romanoff won the gate prize, a large plush bunny. During the hunt for the treasure, music was played and announcements made by Lucien Kidd, Legion member from a sound truck.

Members of the Legion were present to assist the Auxiliary members with the party for the juniors. The object of the hunt was to raise funds to purchase uniforms for junior members of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. John Weathers, chairman of Junior Activities was presented to the gathering by Lucien Kidd, and advised since the Egg Hunt had proven so successful on its initial bow, it would become an annual feature of the Auxiliary for juniors. She also thanked everyone who assisted in the work and those who attended the party.

Assisting Mrs. Weathers in preparing for the egg hunt were Mrs. Marion Beal, Mrs. Leroy Luke, Mrs. Louis Moreau, Mrs. Edwin Necaise, Mrs. Frank Tucon, Miss Cecile Turcotte, all Legion Auxiliary members. John Weathers, Legionnaire, also gave valuable assistance to the women in staging the fête.

Cynthia Dedeaux, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clois Dedeaux was another winner of a large plush bunny. In addition to the two plush rabbits, there were 84 prizes awarded the children during the afternoon.

TEEN AGERS AND TELEPHONES

If the current Rock N-Roll fad hasn't done much else for America, it has made manufacturers and retailers recognize a new source of customers—the teen age market.

A recent survey pointed out that in 1956 America's 16 million teenagers pocketed—and probably spent—the staggering amount of nine billion dollars. Teen-agers buy for themselves. Without any assistance or advice a wide variety of articles ranging from jewelry and records to shoes and clothing. They have had a tremendous influence also on the family telephone arrangement, says Mr. Dabney, local manager for Southern Bell.

Many of our customers are adding additional telephones or extensions in the bedrooms of their teen-agers. It gives them a feeling of responsibility as well as convenience, Mr. Dabney said. We even list their own name in the telephone directory.

Some professional families like doctors have added separate telephone lines to the teen-agers room to insure against the constant busy signal resulting from a "puppy love" conversation to doing homework over the telephone.

Rock N-Roll may fade, but the teen age market is here to stay.

LAST HOME OF JEFFERSON DAVIS RETAINS AURA OF CONFEDERACY

A lusty Gulf breeze sweeps across the sands and rustles the tall, moss-draped live oaks that for many years have stood guard at beautiful Beauvoir, the stately last home of Confederate President Jefferson Davis. Visitors stroll through the grounds, impressed by surroundings that are somewhat reverent. Inside the white, green-trimmed main house, a bedroom contains the belongings of the old soldier and statesman, and the "Daughter of the Confederacy" exhibits in the Jefferson Davis shrine, includes a photograph of post-war Jefferson Davis, a $100,000 reward for capture of President Davis, Beauvoir, built in the early 1850's was the home of Jefferson Davis from 1877, after he left Memphis, until he died in 1889 in New Orleans at the age of 81. The name Beauvoir means "beautiful view." It was a pleasant setting for the writing to which Mr. Davis devoted himself in his last years, where he penned "The Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government" and began memoirs finished by his wife.

SIXTEEN NAMED AS TREE FARMERS

Because they are practicing good forestry on their timber land, sixteen landowners were officially named as Tree Farmers at the Mississippi Forestry Association's April Directors' meeting. The association made up of individuals, companies and organizations interested in better forestry, operates the Tree Farm program in this State. As tree farmers, the group agrees to grow trees on a continuous basis. Further, they agree to protect their timberland from fire, insects, diseases, and over-grazing.

Over the years, obedient children have been taught to look up to teachers. Actually it would be better, in a physical sense, if they were permitted to look down upon them. The children would benefit if they were seated in their classrooms so as to be above the teachers. Turning the eyes upward causes more eye fatigue than looking down.

BIGGER TALES

Handsome recent show for the singers who are very popular with the local crowd drew a big audience at Bay High Wednesday, April 24, when Mrs. George Hall's journalism students presented the weekly assembly program. Richard Mites, senior, acted as master of ceremonies. He introduced the various acts and participated in the show's "commercial." First to appear were "Mickey and Sylvia" singing "Love is Strange." Gail Finlay, junior and Dewitt Kennedy, senior, received an ovation from the audience. Following the popular singing couple, Elaine Bing, junior, pantomimed a Dinah Shore recording and even drew young Earl Taylor, sophomore, into the act. Earl's antics during this number delighted the teen aged audience. "Fats Domino" impersonated by Donald Byrd, junior, wore a black face and a shiny yellow satin coat with wide winged lapels, was next on the program. Helping "Fats" sing "Honey Child" were Grady Perkins, Seth Crippen and Joe Smith, all juniors. Harriet Ward, junior, gaily wearing a Mexican straw hat decorated with flowers and fruit and a Mexican skirt and white blouse, danced and sang to a new record tune called "Hetta Choccolotta." Wayne Allison, senior, climaxed and closed the program as he appeared before the student body as "Elvis Presley" and sang his tune "Money Honey." Several girls fainted—all part of the show, of course—and Wayne, or rather Elvis, was asked to do an encore.

The show's commercial brought many laughs as the records. Participating in them were the "Toni Twins," Bay High's real twins, Beth and Seth Crippen; the "Tooth Paste Patter," done with smiles and a toothless grin by Ruby LaFrance and Barbara Ann Villere; and the Wheaties Strong Man Commercial done with David Godwin and Donald Green, juniors, and Rose Nelson, junior who made a most believable Tony and Tiger. Janice Haskins, junior, was in charge of records.

The annual Bay High Band and Chorus Concert was held in the school's auditorium at 8 p. m., Monday, April 22, 1957, under the direction of Mr. Marcel La Nasa. Mrs. Carl Smith was the piano accompanist.

Among the featured numbers were "Nola," a saxophone solo, played by Bill Cox and two clarinet quartets, "The Prayer" from Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel" and "Ase's Death" from Edward Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite." The clarinet quartet was composed of Cleta Kay Miller, Fellows Joseph Dillman and Mary Ann Dillman.

GROUND BREAKING CEREMONY FOR NEW MP&L UNIT COMMENCES CONSTRUCTION ON STATE'S LARGEST PLANT

Architects Drawing Of New Unit Of Rex Brown Steam Electric Station

Official ground breaking ceremonies were held this week for the new $25,000,000 addition to the Mississippi Power & Light Company's Rex Brown Steam Electric Station at Jackson.

City, State and Company officials participated in the ceremony marking the initial phase of the gigantic construction program which will more than double the size of the existing plant.

The new generating unit for the Rex Brown Steam Electric Station will raise the plant capability from 155 KW to 385 KW to make it the largest generating station in Mississippi and one of the largest in the South.

At the ceremonies, R. B. Wilson, president of Mississippi Power & Light Company, said:

"This is evidence of our faith in the future development of Mississippi, a vote of confidence in all

Mississippians working to build a better and more prosperous State. "From the transmission lines emanating from this plant we will be able to provide an additional supply of adequate, dependable electric power to all our customers in the 22,000 square miles we serve."

Rex I. Brown, chairman of the utility's board of directors and the man for whom this giant installation is named, stated:

"We must always take the lead in building for tomorrow so that in the future no person or industry will turn away from Mississippi for want of adequate power from our industry."

"We have the responsibility of leadership firmly in mind because upon us depends in part the success or failure of the system of free enterprise. Our vigilance is guarantee of its perpetuity."

Some idea of the work involved in the construction of the new unit may be found in the statistics quoted by Mr. Wilson:

For example, 15,000 cubic yards of dirt must be moved to prepare the complete site.

More than 1650 tons of reinforcing and structural steel will be required, 15 miles of electrical conduit and 15 miles of wire will be installed.

The unit will consume the equivalent of 50 car loads of coal per day operating at full capacity. Over 1,100,000 manhours will be required to construct the unit and approximately $10,000,000 of the total cost will be expended for construction labor and materials in Mississippi.

MP&L officials at the ground-breaking ceremony revealed that the new unit is scheduled to be in operation in early 1959.

Higgins, Ellen Allison, Norman Sonier, Bill Cox, Hamilton Guenard, Gayle Parker, Carl Gustafson, Eva Kramer, Paula Kimbrell, Gregory Necaise, R. J. Garcia, Irma Garcia, Mike McCulloch, Billy Pahlman, Tommy Godwin, Will Nunez and Lionel Bourgeois. The band members made a smart appearance in their blue, white and gold uniforms.

The chorus was prettily attired in pastel evening gowns. The chorus members were Gail Finlay, Audrey LaFontaine, Jane Stieffel, Myra Monti, Carolyn Morreale, Courtney Coward, Jean Higgins, Linda Sharp, Martha Allison, Harriet Ward, Shirley Keller, Janice Bankston, Pat Smith, Linda Lee Norland, Laura May Garcia, Marietta Schwartz, Gaylon Strahan, Bobby Jo Walters, Patricia Villere, Ann Vial, Judy Poolson, Rose Ann Kingston, Lillian Wright, Billy Jean Walters, Marilyn Noonan, Alice Maurigi, Sybil Dawsey, Sylvia Tamplin, Patty Jean O'Farrell, and Jackie Jones. The ushers were Marguerite Randolph, Martha Allison and Courtney Coward.

Bay High had a very musical week, April 22 through April 26. In addition to the Band-Chorus Concert Monday, April 22, at 8 p. m., there was the appearance of the Pearl River Junior College Orchestra at assembly period on Wednesday, April 24. The PRC group was under the direction of Mr. Joseph Elio. This performance should be of particular interest to Bay High students because three Alumni, Wheeler Hartfield, Richard Bourgeois, and Otto Bourgeois, who are now attending P. R. C. appeared.

On Friday, April 26, at 2 p. m. the Pensacola High School Band gave a performance in the gym. This band numbers over 90 pieces, which necessitates giving the performance in the gym.

Bay High's annual Career Day was held Thursday, April 16, and the day's activities provided in interesting and profitable sessions throughout the day for students who are to graduate, as well as for those who have longer to decide upon a chosen career after high school. Mr. Floyd Barnes, Secretary of the Mississippi Educational Association, opened Career Day at the general informal talk to the students, Principal Joe McCulloch directed students to the selected classrooms where discussions upon various phases of work were to be held.

The schedule for Career Day and the invited speakers were as follows: Auto Mechanics, Mr. Hunt and Mr. Wheat, Pearl River Junior College; Cosmetology, Mr. Johnson, Pearl River Junior College; Business Education, representatives from Perkinson Junior College; Mr. Ford Lowry, Mississippi Power Company, Gulfport; Nursing, Graduate Nurse from Toudo Infirmary, New Orleans; Housewife and Homemaking, Mrs. Robert Hamilton and Miss Frances Nicholson, Vocational Department of Home Economics, Southern Division; and a representative from the U. S. Air Force and two representatives from the U. S. Marine Corps who spoke to senior boys about serving in the country's armed forces.

First grade pupils presented their program, "The Boy and his Three Goats" Friday morning at 9 o'clock.

The Third Grade children enjoyed their Easter party and egg hunt.

Refreshments were served. Prizes were won by Henry Pulizzano, Carol Ann Bilbo, Johnny Favre, Nancy Schoonmaker, and Wayne Oliver.

On Thursday afternoon, April 18th, the Fifth and Sixth Grades were given Easter parties by the mothers of the two grades. Each child had made a basket which was later filled with eggs. Games were played. First, second, and third prizes were given to those who won in the contest games. Refreshments were served. All of the children thoroughly enjoyed the parties.

Miss Spatorno's Third Grade enjoyed an Easter Egg Hunt on the grounds of the S. J. Ingram Elementary School on Thursday, April 18th.

The prizes were won by John Shattuck and Ronald Shiyou.

Those on the Honor Roll in the Third Grade for the fifth period are: Dana Leigh, Sallier, Phyllis Sauer, Georgia Horton, Thelma Kingston, Bettye Carol

Hill and Jan Osinach

DECLAMATION AND EXPRESSION CONTEST

"I rated excellent in Hattiesburg and will go to the State contest at Belhaven College in Jackson, Saturday, May 4," declared Cleta Kay Miller, junior, who represented Bay High in the South Mississippi College, Hattiesburg. Cleta Kay was accompanied by Miss Alma Parker, English instructor and declamation coach.

Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Laverne Pahlman, Mary Ann Pahlman, freshman, and Cleta Kay went to Pascagoula on April 13th. Cleta Kay participated in the District 8 Declamation and Expression Contest by giving a reading entitled "A Pleasant Half Hour on the Beach" by Marjorie Benton Cooke. Mary Ann took part in the District 8 Piano Contest, rating Excellent. Cleta Kay rated Superior, which permitted her to participate in Hattiesburg.

The Valedictorian is selected from the Senior Class. This honor is based upon the student who has the highest average for four years in high school. Sue Ann Osborn is the Valedictorian for this year. The second highest average for four years in high school was Thomas Hill. He is Salutatorian for the Senior Class.

Dedication Exercises For Army's First Nuclear Power Reactor

Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker and Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss threw the switch of the Army's first nuclear power reactor for generating electricity at dedication exercises held Monday, April 29, at 2:30 p. m. at the U. S. Army Engineer Center, Fort Belvoir, Virginia. Among those attending were high officials of the Federal Government and the State of Virginia members of the President's Cabinet; members of the Senate and House of Representatives as well as some members of the professional staffs of interested Congressional Committees; officials of the Atomic Energy Commission, Departments of Defense, Army, Navy and Air Force and representatives of the contractor and sub-contractors who built the plant.

Maj. General Emerson C. Itchner, Army Chief of Engineers, welcomed visitors to Fort Belvoir. Speakers included Secretary Brucker, Chairman Strauss, and P. T. Egbert, President of New York, the prime contractor. Deputy Chief of Chaplains, U. S. Army Brigadier General Frank A. Tobey, gave the invocation.

The U. S. Army Band furnished music for the ceremonies including a 45 minute concert beginning at 1:15 p. m.

Following the dedication ceremony, guests were taken in small groups on a tour of the plant. This prototype of a series of reactors to be built for use by the military. A few products, Inc. entertained the invited guests at a reception at the Officers' Club.

According to Randolph Bourgeois, Hancock County Game Warden, 65,000 black bass were put in Mulatto Bayou last week of course, these were small fingerlings and is done by the Fish and Game Commission to replenish the streams in this section. These fish are allocated to be placed in different streams and come from the fish hatchery at Lyman Miss. The fish are transported in specially constructed trucks and are handled by expert of the fish hatchery.

According to Bourgeois there are other allotments ready to be sent to Hancock County in the near future, including numerous bream.

The annual meeting of the Fish and Game Commission for the purpose of setting dates and rules of the hunting season will be held in Jackson on May 10, and will be attended by the officers of the Hancock County Sportsmen League who will make suggestions to the Commission for the betterment of the hunters and fishermen of Hancock County.

Fishing is getting better day by day. Reports are that green trout and perch are being caught in Mulatto Bayou, White's Bayou, Bayou Cowan and up Jordan River.

Watson Johns has been getting his share as usual.

George Horton and August Rauxet got some beautiful speckles out at the Keys over the week end, however they reported that the water was rather rough due to the prevailing winds.

Soft crabs and flounders are beginning to make their appearance according to Henry Lang and his son, Michael, got a couple dozen the other night.

Mr. and Mrs. John Damborino also caught some soft crabs Sunday night. John said he stuck his first flounder of the season and the Missus love to go out and are good at getting 'em.

Joseph (Cotton) Blaize who was visiting here over the weekend from up Mississippi way, also a soft crabber supreme, caught "beaucoup" crabs. Cotton is really an old timer at the game and knows how to catch them. He said his feet had been itching to go out in the water.

Haven't heard anything of Vic Fouert being out after soft crabs. What's wrong Vic?

Miss Mary Perkins and H. Grady Perkins, Jr., are also ardent soft crabbers and have been out lately. Understand they got some crabs last week.

CLOVER GRAZING CAN BE WASTED

"Don't waste surplus clover grazing." If clovers are not grazed down or cut for silage or saved for seed harvest, they will die down and be lost. Crimson clover, crimson and ryegrass, white clover and ryegrass all make good silage. Where surplus ryegrass is to be cut for hay, the time to cut it is when the area shows seed heads all across the field. Alfalfa should be watched closely from now until time to cut for hay. A general rule is to cut alfalfa for hay when it is about 10 per cent bloom.

SEEDBED IS SECRET TO GOOD CORN CROP

Be careful in preparing the bottom land where late corn is to be planted and don't prepare the land when it is too wet. You will get a lot better seed bed if you wait a few days longer and let it dry out some more, as a good seedbed is the secret to good stands of most crops. In fertilizing your late corn fields, especially on bottom land, you can put all the fertilizer down before planting if you prefer putting all the mixed goods and part of the nitrogen under and addressing with part of the nitrogen, that is a good practice, but just plan to address before dry weather sets in so you will get full benefit of the nitrogen.

Mississippi Leaders Express High Optimism Of Good Will Effectiveness

Mississippi leaders expressed high optimism today over the effectiveness of a "good will tour" to New York and Chicago seeking industrial prospects for the state.

The tour, one of a series of person-to-person conferences with business spokesmen sponsored by the Mississippi Agricultural and Industrial Board over previous years, attracted some 250 industrialists to hear what Mississippians had to tell them about the state's economic advantages and its attitude toward industry in general.

"The whole trip was highly successful," Gov. J. P. Coleman, chairman of the A & I Board, told his first press conference after returning to his capital office.

"We have beautiful prospects," he beamed. "No less than half a dozen we expect to hear from in the next few months. One in particular—if we can get it—would enable us to rest on our laurels for months to come." He did not identify any of the prospects.

Gov. Coleman told his press conference that many of the industrialists who attended the "get acquainted" lunches in Chicago and New York City already had units of their firms and corporations located in Mississippi.

Ex-Governor Hugh White, vice-chairman of the A & I Board and recognized throughout the nation as the "father" of the "Balance Agriculture with Industry" plan administered by the Board, also waxed enthusiastic.

"The meeting in Chicago was as good as one I've seen," the ex-governor exclaimed as he returned to his business office at Jackson. "We had a very enthusiastic crowd, and the governor made a splendid talk."

As far as the industrial future of Mississippi is concerned, ex-governor White said, "I think we're in first class shape" and added:

"The only thing which held us back these past months was the tight money situation. But I feel awfully good about our prospects."

"But I Don't Need To Go To

By Rev. Joseph Manton, Author

I SUPPOSE we have all met the person who insists he can worship God far better high on a mountain peak than in the church. I am always tempted to ask such a person, "Tell me, do you do much mountain climbing?"

Would such a person climb to the cathedral of nature in a roaring blizzard or in the dismal rain? After all, God is in the secret of the heart, or the fog as well as in the technicolor sunset. Those who pray to be at their adoration of God best without benefit of steeples often are merely enthusiastic over fair weather and a pretty landscape, and God gets a nod as the stage manager.

WE LIVE in an orderly world where there is a special place for everything. We have books in libraries, money in banks, operating rooms in hospitals, and altars in churches. God Himself favored the fixed and definite place. He had His Mount Sinai, crowned with fearful smoke and bright flame. Bethlehem itself was pin-pointed on the map, and in it, one certain stable where the altar was a manger.

Church is the special place for the adoration of God and the practice of religion. Church is the meeting place of man with

Dick Merritt And Iva Mae McDonald Are New P. C. I. Golf Champions

Dick Merritt and Iva McDonald are Club Champions. The finals in the Club Class Championships were played off Sunday, April 28th and all but one match decided on the last hole. In Class A men, Dick Merritt defeated Roy Capehart one up; Class B, C. C. McDonald, Jr., defeated Dick Mestayer one up; Class D, Donnie Welch, defeated Red Hamilton 4 and 3. The large class C made it necessary for the men in that group to go an extra bracket and the final match will be played off next Sunday, May 5.

In the Ladies Class A, Mrs. Iva Mae McDonald walked off with the honors in winning her match one up over Mrs. Margaret Erwin. Miss Catherine Purchner defeated Miss Jane Brown one up in Class B. Miss Eliza both Dambriak defeated Miss Cecil Cox, 2 up in Class C. Mrs. Frances Griffin defeated Mrs. Nancy Byrne, one up, in Class D.

The trophies were presented by President Cary Speas to the winners and runners-up Sunday evening, immediately after a delicious shrimp and crab boil was enjoyed by members and their guests. The host and hostess of the evening were Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Taylor.

The weather prevented the ladies weekly tournament, Tuesday, April 30, but a large group enjoyed card games and lunch. These participating include Mesdames C. C. McDonald, Jr., Jim McDonald, Frances Griffin, Norman Renshaw, John Noonan; S. P. Borden, Lewis Morrow, H. H. Hillier, L. L. Walters, Walter Russo, Larry Flynn, Ed Gamard, Harry Wittmann and Misses Maud Frye and Julia Frye. Guests included Mrs. Ann McCutcheon, Don Freniss, J. B. Stovall, G. B. Plagg and C. A. West.

Scene At SJA Prom Saturday Nite

Far Away Places, with strange sounding names, was the theme of the junior-senior prom staged Saturday evening in the gym of the local convent.

Given by the juniors as a farewell gesture to the senior class this event was one of the most intriguing staged in the school. Girls of the junior class designed and executed the scenery for the party, after selecting the theme.

On entering the doors of the gym, one was transplanted to another world. Settings of small tables, night club style, circled the vast room, with scenes depicting national characteristics of many foreign lands. France was immediately recognized with a sidewalk cafe, and the quaint sign "Rene's" denoted the proprietor. The "Corrido des Toros" with a toreador and senorita in lace mantilla let one know that the lure of castles in Spain was present. Shanghai, cross roads of the world, Puerto Rico, in the Caribbean, Bermuda names that all spell magic, moonlight and gaiety were present. The dimensional quality of the south sea island stage was done with all the skill of veteran stage designers. These girls have wonderful talents, and many hours of hard labor went into the numerous life sized cut outs, which included trees, human figures and scenic backgrounds of familiar buildings.

Needless to say the evening of pleasure was a most successful one, with girls and their dates from both classes enjoying the dancing and delicious food served by the hosting class of Juniors.

SMITH TO LEAVE STANISLAUS; WILL COACH AT ALOYSIUS

Ernest Smith, 27 year-old head basketball coach at St. Stanislaus of Bay St. Louis, will leave the Coast this fall to become assistant football mentor and head basketball coach at St. Aloysius of New Orleans, it was learned from a reliable source today.

Smith, who recently completed his first season at the head of the St. Stanislaus basketball squad, and who is currently directing the fortunes of St. Stanislaus baseball team, is a native of Albuquerque, N. M.

He attended St. Marys High School in Albuquerque and was an All-State football and basketball performer during his prep days. He attended St. Joseph's College in New Mexico for one year and was the school's leading varsity basketball scorer.

Transferring to Loyola of New Orleans as a freshman in 1950, he was the leading scorer on Loyola's freshman basketball squad, then earned varsity letters for the next three years.

In 1954 he was commissioned a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army and was assigned to Fort Gordon, Ga.

At Fort Gordon he was put in charge of the basketball team and his squad compiled a 35-7 record in its first season as coach, going undefeated on its home court and finishing third in the World-Wide Army tournament.

In his next season as coach at Fort Gordon, Smith's team compiled a 27-5 record and was voted the top service basketball team in 1955-56.

Following his release from active duty, Smith accepted a coaching job at St. Stanislaus, and during the past season, his first at the helm of the Rockachaw cagers, Smith's team rolled to a 24-4 campaign, winning 17 and losing only once to Mississippi teams.

Married and the father of a year-old girl, Smith will report to St. Aloysius on August 18 to assist with football coaching duties.

The position at St. Aloysius was left vacant when Ray Breaux resigned to enter private business. Andy Douglas serves as head football coach and athletic director at the New Orleans school.

Both St. Stanislaus and St. Aloysius are Sacred Heart schools.

Sam Scaffidi is a patient in King's Daughters Hospital where he was taken Saturday afternoon following an attack of illness. He is being given medical treatment at the local hospital.

Candidates For a Progressive Administration

GEORGE E. HEITZMANN

JOSEPH H. BENVENUTTI

RUSSELL J. ELLIOTT

Opportunity Knocks

Candidates for a SINCERE, HONEST AND PROGRESSIVE ADMINISTRATION are knocking at your door offering you the opportunities our City has so sorely needed for many years.

Please examine this article very carefully and then ask yourself "What has the present administration done for you towards bringing Industry into your Community?"

Assuming the present City Council was sincere in their efforts to accomplish improvements and bring industry into our Community it is unfortunate that their initiative and ability towards the community was not sufficient. It is also unfortunate that the MAJORITY of the PEOPLE did not have the confidence and belief in the present administration, and, also the relationship of the Administration towards the voters was such that it prevented harmony and support needed to produce advancement of the community. Herewith is a report from the U. S. Chamber of Commerce of what can be accomplished with only one small factory employing 100 workers. THIS ONE FACTORY WILL RESULT IN THE FOLLOWING:

1. 296 more people in the Community
2. 112 more households;
3. 51 more children;
4. $590,000 more personal income per year;
5. $270,000 more in bank deposits;
6. 107 more passenger cars;
7. 174 more workers employed;
8. 4 more retail business establishments
9. and $360,000 more in retail sales per year.

To accomplish such advancement in our community, we will work in accordance with the MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE and be governed WILLINGLY BY THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE, holding no malice towards anyone who may differ with our personal feelings; nor be led to express any feelings of disappointment or dissatisfaction towards the will of the majority.

Making allowances to the present Administration and overlooking all their errors, we still have no industry nor do we have any evidence of any definite plans having been made to establish any industries in the future during the 4-year administration of the present City Council.

IS THIS ONE OF THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS THEY BOAST OF?

We know industry can be brought to our Community by a serious effort. If you will take time to examine the accomplishments of our Coastal Cities and the much smaller communities within our State you can readily see what can be obtained with a little effort.

With such splendid assistance being offered under the BAWI Program and the many small businesses anxious to locate in the deep south, we honestly state that an industrial program can become a reality.

The progress of a Community depends solely on its resources. We believe the greatest resources of any Community are its people; but if the people are not given an opportunity to keep abreast of the Industrial movements fostered by the State of Mississippi, then certainly, the progressive development of the Community is hampered.

Since 1953, ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-TWO (132) new Industrial manufacturers located in the State of Mississippi. In the year 1956, alone EIGHTY THREE (83) new and expanded plants located in our State. Not one of these new industries have been brought to our Community.

Our Community has been lacking in acquiring any of these facilities which furthers the progress of the place wherein they are located.

Many communities, guided by able and sincere leadership, have achieved ECONOMIC STABILITY by responding to the invitation to participate under the Balance Agriculture with Industry Plan as sponsored by the State of Mississippi. WHY CAN'T WE?
